The Committee of the Whole considered the “MPM Consulting – Final Report on the Feasibility of Amalgamating the Hanover and West Grey Police Services, dated February 27, 2017”, that was referred to the Committee of the Whole by Council during the March 20, 2017 Special Council meeting.

The CAO/Deputy Clerk reported that the Town of Hanover has accepted the MPM Consulting Report and has recommended setting up a committee to continue the process.

Councillor Thompson asked if the MPM consultant has completed his contract now that he has completed his final report. Mayor Eccles responded that he is done now, unless he is hired for any future steps in the process, if applicable.

Councillor Lawrence questioned the benefits to West Grey as opposed to the Town of Hanover, opining that the only benefit to West Grey may be relating to a new police building. Councillor Lawrence mentioned West Grey could give a costing to provide policing service to Hanover.

(2) March 27, 2017

Deputy Mayor Bell inquired if a facilitator will be required if the amalgamation proposal continues. Councillor Cutting indicated some of the work would be done by West Grey Council and staff, so a facilitator may not be needed right away. Councillor Cutting added that a facilitator may be required for certain aspects, such as the Ontario Civilian Commission on Police Service (OCOPS) process.

Deputy Mayor Bell asked if there are any timelines for completion of the process, and noted assistance from a consultant can be obtained when needed. Councillor Cutting indicated there would be another Request for Proposals (RFP) if additional consulting work is required.

Councillor Thompson expressed that he is not in favour of amalgamating the police services, as it will result in a drop in service with less officers (3 vs. 4). Councillor Thompson stated West Grey can build a new police building, and offer its police service to Hanover, Grey Highlands or Chatsworth.

Councillor Hutchinson noted his concerns with safety, specifically, relating to only 3 officers working at a time, and when reviewing crime statistics it appears the bulk of work will be in Hanover, leaving West Grey without an adequate police presence at times. Councillor Hutchinson also stated that the West Grey Police Service can contract services to Hanover, or even Chatsworth or Grey Highlands. Councillor Hutchinson opined that West Grey should obtain a costing from the Ontario Provincial Police (OPP).

Councillor Cutting indicated she is not in favour of requesting an OPP costing, opining that it will be a waste of time, and noting it has always been the public's opinion that they want a municipal police service. Councillor Cutting stated that the OPP will not provide the level of police presence that the West Grey Police Service provides to ratepayers.

Mayor Eccles indicated it is his understanding that 3 officers is a minimum level, and every normal shift would have 4 officers. Councillor Thompson stated he asked the consultant that question during the March 20, 2017 Special Council meeting and the consultant affirmed it would be a minimum of 3 officers.

Councillor Lawrence stated there won't be immediate cost savings and there will not be the same community policing that West Grey currently enjoys.

(3) March 27, 2017

Councillor Lawrence questioned if there is a cost to a municipality for requesting an OPP costing. Mayor responded that he believes there is such a cost, and has heard it can cost upwards of $100,000. Councillor Lawrence stated that OPP costings usually come in at a reasonable rate at first and then costs escalate markedly afterward. Mayor Eccles stated that he is aware that the last three OPP costings requested by municipalities were at a considerably more cost than the current municipal police services costs.

Deputy Mayor Bell noted the independent consulting report indicates a potential savings of $650,000/year, and this would be a significant cost saving to the municipalities even if the savings are not realized right away. Deputy Mayor Bell stated it would be a dis-service to ratepayers if West Grey did not support the continuation of the process to the next phase, noting two new police stations are not needed. Deputy Mayor Bell also indicated he is not in favour of requesting an OPP costing.

Councillor Cutting stated she is not convinced that West Grey will save much money as the West Grey Police Service is an extremely efficient service. Councillor Cutting indicated a lot of the savings in the report are combined savings, and felt Hanover would save more than West Grey by amalgamating the police services. Councillor Cutting mentioned that perhaps the next step would clarify where the savings would be for West Grey.

Deputy Mayor Bell stated the report indicates each of the municipalities would have to absorb some liabilities of the other police service, and would look to negotiators on the committee to protect the interests of West Grey.

Councillor Hergert asked what the liabilities are for West Grey pursuant to the Police Services Act. The CAO/Deputy Clerk indicated it is his belief that each police service will be responsible for their own liabilities, and approval from OCOPS will be required. Councillor Hergert questioned if that is something that can be addressed prior to amalgamation. The CAO/Deputy Clerk responded that this would be negotiated in the formation of the agreement. Councillor Hergert noted it would have to be determined where an adequate police building could be constructed in West Grey, and if the West Grey Police Service remains on its own, West Grey may want to oversize the building if the West Grey Police Service may provide service to Hanover or other local municipalities. Councillor Hergert indicated a funding formula can be established for the provision of such services, and a dispute resolution mechanism can be implemented through the negotiation process.

(4) March 27, 2017

Councillor Thompson opined that if the West Grey Police Service remains a sole entity, that a police building would be built that is adequate for West Grey purposes, and if services are provided to other municipalities, a substation would be provided in that municipality. Mayor Eccles stated that West Grey requires an approximate 10,000 square foot new police building at an estimated cost of between 3.5 to 4 million, and if the West Grey Police Service took on other contracts there would be substations, and the West Grey Police Service main building would also likely have to expand due to more employees being required in the central building.

Councillor Hutchinson questioned if the process moves forward, can the option of West Grey providing service to Hanover be considered. Mayor Eccles responded that the MPM report was solely to determine if the amalgamation of the two police boards is feasible.

Deputy Mayor Bell stated this issue has to be addressed from a business perspective, and if West Grey can't negotiate an agreement, then West Grey stops the process.

Mark McComb, West Grey Police Service Sergeant, and President of the West Grey Police Association, noted his appreciation for the process to date. Sergeant McComb stated the Association's concerns include there was a lot of discussion regarding an OPP style of policing which the Association does not want, as the Association wants policing similar to what is now being provided; the minimum of 3 officers working is felt by West Grey Police officers to be insufficient, noting calls for service in Hanover vastly outweigh calls in West Grey, so would see 2 officers in Hanover and only 1 in West Grey that would not be sufficient; the premise in the report regarding the hiring of five part-time police officers is problematic as West Grey has not been able to hire part-time police officers very successfully in the past, and will not in the future; the proposed minimum staffing levels are set through the collective agreements with the Hanover & West Grey Police Service Associations which is currently a minimum of 2 officers in both West Grey and Hanover at one time and that would continue in the mind of the Association, even though the consultant indicates the minimum staffing level for an amalgamated police service would only be 3 officers, and not 3 officers and a sergeant. Sergeant McComb, speaking on behalf of the West Grey Police Service Association, stated the West Grey Police Service is moving along well with new leadership and a long term contract, and the proposed amalgamation process will undermine what the West Grey Police Service is doing now.

(5) March 27, 2017

Sergeant McComb stated that the West Grey Police Service has a unique opportunity to offer Hanover a costing for the provision of policing by the West Grey Police Service, and if the proposed amalgamation talks continue, it will undermine what the West Grey Police Service is doing now.

Robert Martin, West Grey Police Chief, stated the benefit of remaining solely as the West Grey Police Service is that the service is already fiscally responsible, and has recently found additional savings. Chief Martin stated he has some concerns with the MPM report, including the consultants statement that if the amalgamated police service with only the 3 proposed officers working at a time get busy, the service can just call for help, whereas presently when the West Grey Police Service gets busy it typically calls the Hanover Police Service, so another police service would have to be called that is further from the municipalities; that West Grey is a community and people focused, and would have to integrate Hanover with its way of thinking; that people in West Grey view the West Grey Police Service as a fiscally responsible and community oriented policing force; and the minimum staffing levels projected would have to be negotiated with the police associations.

Councillor Hutchinson questioned if West Grey stays status quo, can the West Grey Police Service contract its police service to Hanover. Chief Martin indicated the West Grey Police Service can provide contracted services.

Mayor Eccles stated the only issue with contracting a police service is when the agreement expires, a municipality can contract with another police service, and then the West Grey Police Service would have an issue with extra officers and how to deal with them.

Sergeant McComb recounted that when the Hanover and Walkerton Police Services amalgamated and then subsequently separated, it was a messy situation. When the OPP took over policing, it took the 9 most senior police officers. Mayor Eccles stated if the West Grey Police Service was on a contract basis with Hanover, for instance, the contracted officers don't go to the OPP, but remain with the service, and it would be difficult to downsize the force.

Councillor Cutting stated her deepest concern is if West Grey doesn't approve going to the next step in the process, they may be negating the possibility of any possible savings down the road.

(6) March 27, 2017

Jeremy White, West Grey Police Service Sergeant, indicated the Association would not be willing to give up on the contract requiring a minimum of two officers in West Grey, among other stipulations.

Councillor Hergert noted the MPM report indicated there will be approximate $650,000/year in the short term, and $3.2 million savings in the longer term, and questioned how a decision not to proceed to the next step would be explained to the constituents. Councillor Hergert questioned how much money the West Grey Police Service has saved. Chief Martin responded the West Grey Police Service does not have the economies of scale to save the aforementioned amounts, however, their savings will be detailed in a future report to Council.

Mayor Eccles indicated that a lot of time was spent on assessing potential cost savings, how a force of 20 West Grey Police Service Officers will be able to meet future service levels and demands, and questioned if the West Grey Police Service has the capacity to continue with what is currently in place. Chief Martin noted a lot of expertise has been lost due to past retirements, and the police service is doing its best to replace the lost expertise. Chief Martin noted emerging mental health calls are going up which are time and cost consuming, and significant human resources issues are arising – the police service can hold the line but are stretched thin.

Sergeant White stated Chief Martin has completed positive work regarding training on mental health issues, and opined that an amalgamated police service would typically take the best of both contracts.

Councillor Hutchinson opined that future negotiations should include a minimum of 4 officers and reflect the costing accordingly.

Councillor Hergert stated the best of both contracts can be negotiated for a new contract.

Bell-Hergert, Be it resolved that, the Committee of the Whole having received the MPM Consulting Report, recommends Council continue to explore police service board amalgamation discussions with the Town of Hanover;
And further that, Council appoint representatives to a joint steering committee with the objective of developing a detailed amalgamation plan for presentation to the respective Police Services Boards and Councils.

The Committee may consider providing either an afternoon or different night for younger skaters. The Neustadt Craft Show will be held on the 1st weekend in May at the Neustadt Arena. A free roller skating event was held on Family Day with 195 skaters participating, and there was a total of 729 roller skaters in February. There are 107 pickle ball members.
